Welcome to the City of a Thousand Clover-leaves.*

Take a little time to get to know Fürth, the city of the cloverleaf crest. You will be amazed at how many notable and charming sights there are to discover.

More than a thousand years old, Fürth is as modern as befits a European city of science. In Fürth, whether you want to experience original Franconian social life or find high-tech solutions to present-day challenges like solar energy, you will find yourself in clover. We bet you won’t be able to resist the unique character and charm of Fürth!

* We are alluding to the cloverleaves – roughly more than a thousand - crafted from stone, metal or wood that flourish unobtrusively and grace fences, gates or window frames.
Explore our Architectural Heritage.

No Bavarian city boasts more historical buildings in proportion to its inhabitants than Fürth – over 2,000 – the most famous and striking being the town hall and the theatre.

Apart from heritage sites, you can also admire a range of contemporary buildings. If you take an interest in innovative architecture and design, you will find marvellous examples at Uferstadt (Riverside Estate) or in Südstadtpark (South City Park).

Whether newly constructed or centuries old – there is so much to see and explore!
Places of Interest

Zentaurenbrunnen (Centaur Fountain) at Bahnhofsplatz (1)
The first “art fountain” was designed by Rudolf Maison in 1890 as a monument to the first German railway (1835) and the establishment of the central water supply (1877). It depicts man’s harnessing of the forces of nature. Back then, railway steam was regarded as threatening. Only when it was tamed in the locomotive did people realize its benefits.

Fürther Freiheit (2)
This is where the first train, the Adler, arrived in 1835. The Ludwig Railway operated until 1922 but then became insignificant. The old station building was demolished in 1938. Today, the historic square is mostly used as a venue for various events.

Paradiesbrunnen (Paradise Fountain) (3)
Since 1955, the Paradise Fountain has stood on the Dr.-Max-Grundig-Anlage, named after its founder. The fountain was designed by the artist couple Barbara and Gernot Rumpf. It depicts the Garden of Eden with a human couple, several paradisiacal animals, a natural tree and spouting water features. Also, the fountain is a paradise for children to play in.

Rathaus (City Hall), Königstraße 86-88 (4)
The monumental building was constructed between 1840 and 1850 according to plans by Eduard Bürklein in the neo-classical style of the famous architect Friedrich von Gärtner. Its 55-metre tower, landmark of the city, was inspired by the Palazzo Vecchio in Florence. The industrial town grew so quickly that an extension had to be added only 50 years later.

Stadttheater (Municipal Theatre), Königstr. 116 (5)
One of the most magnificent buildings in Fürth is the Municipal Theatre, built by the famous Viennese architects Hellner and Fellmer in the neo-baroque style in 1902. They achieved a highly representative effect with the portal arch, the flanking columns and the architectural sculpture. Portrait medallions of Mozart and Schiller, together with busts of Wagner, Beethoven, Goethe and Lessing, on the lateral faces indicate the building’s function as a theatre and opera house. The auditorium is in the neo-rococo style.

The Quarter behind the City Hall (6)
Entire streets lined with houses in the style of classicism and historicism characterise this district that came into existence in the second half of the 19th century. It was laid out as planned in a rectangular grid for the constantly growing population. In the courtyards, there were commercial establishments, workshops and small factories. At that time, living and working were still closely intertwined.

Berolzheimerianum, Theresienstraße 1 (7)
The pencil manufacturer Heinrich Berolzheimer founded the institute of adult education in 1904. Today, the renovated art nouveau building is home to the playhouse, restaurant and scene bistro of the Comödie Fürth and more recently to the Grüner brewery.

Lochnersches Gartenhaus, Theaterstraße 33 (8)
Around 1700, Fürth pastor Daniel Lochner built his summer house in the former garden district. People at the time likened it “to a palace” because it was erected in the style of Nuremberg manor houses. The house was elaborately restored in 2003/04. Its striking elements are the gabled houses, the characteristic stair tower and the half-timbered rear.

You can find the numbers of the sights on the city map on the back inside cover.
Hornschuchpromenade und Königswarterstraße (9)
These two boulevards from the Wilhelmine era are among the most beautiful in Fürth. From 1883 to 1904, prestigious stately homes with rich sandstone ornaments were built for the upper classes between Luisenstraße and Jakobinenstraße. This spacious promenade is unique in Fürth. At that time, the green central reservation was used by the Ludwig railway – living close to the railway tracks was considered fashionable.

Gustavstraße (10)
Gustavstraße was the most important street in the old town. Nowadays, it is the heart of the pub scene and a popular meeting point, especially in the evening. No two houses are the same here. There is a great variety of roof shapes, heights, styles and facade designs. The baroque sandstone building of the Grüner Baum inn is especially attractive. Here, the Swedish king Gustav Adolf is said to have stayed in 1632. The street is named after him.

St. Michaelskirche (St. Michael’s Church) (11)
The Michaelskirche is the oldest edifice in Fürth. The beginnings of this fortified church date back to 1100. As befitted the erstwhile small market town, St. Michael’s is just a simple, unadorned village church. The tower with its west portal, the chancel and the south entrance are from the Gothic period. The interior is in 19th century neo-Gothic style. The only remaining old piece of art is the sandstone tabernacle built around 1500.

Grüner Markt mit Gauklerbrunnen (Green Market with Jugglers’ Fountain) (12)
Due to the fact that Fürth was almost totally destroyed in the Thirty Years’ War, the old houses date from the second half of the 17th and from the 18th century. Apart from simple, half-timbered buildings, there are sandstone houses with baroque curved gables documenting the rise of the town in the 18th century. A popular attraction at the Green Market is the Jugglers’ Fountain with its two groups of figures. It was designed by Harro Frey in 2004.

Alter Judenfriedhof (Old Jewish cemetery) (13)
This is where the Jewish community buried its dead between 1607 and 1906. Jewish graves are created for eternity and their peace must not be disturbed. Despite acts of desecration during the Nazi period, the cemetery, which covers 20,000 m² and once stood on the edge of town, continues to be one of the most impressive stone testaments of Jewish life in Fürth.

Logenhause der Freimaurerloge (Freemasons’ lodge house)
Dambacher Str. 11 (14)
The prominent historicist building of the Fürth Masonic lodge was constructed in 1890/91 by Nuremberg architect Leonhard Bürger, embodying the principle tenets of Freemasonry. The cube-shaped body of the building is abundantly decorated with Masonic symbols. On top of the gable, two female figures represent the lodge’s name “Truth and Friendship”. The renovated hall is one of the finest ballrooms in Fürth.

Wilhelm-Löhe-Haus, Königstraße 27 (15)
This house shelters the history of the Protestant theologian Wilhelm Löhe who was born here on February 21 in 1808. He was the founder of the deaconesses’ home in Neuendettelsau and of a Lutheran missionary school.

Schloss Burgfarrnbach (Burgfarrnbach Castle) (16)
The neo-classical castle of the counts Pückler-Limpurg is situated in the district Burgfarrnbach. It was built between 1830 and 1834 by royal Bavarian master builder Leonhard Schmidtn. The triangular gable of the facade’s protruding middle section displays the Pückler coat of arms. The castle belongs to the city of Fürth and is used as an archive, library and prestigious venue. The English-style castle grounds are particularly beautiful.
No other Bavarian city is as resonant with Jewish history as Fürth. This is impressively brought to visitors attention at the Jewish Museum of Franconia. On Hornschuchpromenade and Königs- warterstraße, 19th-century townhouse ensembles evoke admiration as magnificent examples of our architectural history. Here, the first German railway was put into service between Nuremberg and Fürth in 1835. It paved the way for the city’s industrial development.

Discover the Region’s Towns and Cities.

Are you ready for more? The towns of Fürth, Nuremberg, Erlangen and Schwabach have joined to form a common tourist region offering a diversity of cultural experiences and events. Thanks to a good network of public transport, the whole region is waiting to be explored. Bamberg or Rothenburg ob der Tauber, for example, can easily be reached from Fürth, allowing further delightful impressions of Franconia.
Schwabach
Schwabach revolves around gold. For 500 years, gold leaf has been beaten and exported all over the world. You can watch the manufacture of this precious metal in a demonstration workshop in the municipal museum. The market place with its carefully restored half-timbered houses and residences, its trendy shops and quaint restaurants, is one of the finest in Franconia. www.schwabach.de

Bamberg
Bamberg enchants its visitors by presenting one of the largest, fully preserved historical townscapes with UNESCO heritage status. Other notable features are the museums on Cathedral Hill, the high concentration of breweries and the former fishing settlement “Klein-Venedig” on the river Regnitz. www.bamberg.info

Rothenburg ob der Tauber
Being inspired by German history or indulging in romantic emotions – both options are possible in the medieval town of Rothenburg with its imposing town wall. Walk the narrow alleyways on a discovery tour with the night watchman, visit the medieval crime museum or the German Christmas museum – you will be thrilled. www.tourismus.rothenburg.de

Nürnberg
Bavaria’s second largest city has far more to offer than the celebrated “Lebkuchen” and roast sausages, the Christmas market and the medieval imperial castle, the “Kaiserburg”. Between half-timbered gables and sandstone houses, there are more than 30 museums, including the Dürerhaus and the Germanisches Nationalmuseum. Events like the “Blaue Nacht” or the “Bardentreffen” music festival, are well known far beyond the city borders. www.tourismus.nuernberg.de

Erlangen
Erlangen is one of the best-preserved planned cities in Germany. It is home to the renowned Friedrich-Alexander-University as well as to the world’s largest Siemens PLC location. Every year during Whitsuntide, locals and visitors live it up at the “Bergkirchweih”, a huge fun fair and beer festival alongside the beer cellars on castle hill. The summer residence with its extensive palace garden is a place for peaceful relaxation. www.erlangen-marketing.de

10 Jahre Stiftergemeinschaft

Gemeinsam mit unseren Kundinnen und Kunden haben wir einiges erreicht. In den zehn Jahren seit Gründung der Stiftergemeinschaft der Sparkasse Fürth kamen rund 400.000 Euro gemeinnützigen Projekten in der Stadt und im Landkreis zugute. Die Schwerpunkte waren vielfältig und reichten von Umwelt- und Tierschutz, Jugendhilfe und Seniorenbetreuung bis hin zu Sport, Kultur und Wissenschaft.

Viele einzelne Namens- und Themenstiftungen sind unter einem Dach vereint und machen die Stiftergemeinschaft somit zu einer der größten ihrer Art in Deutschland.

Freuen Sie sich mit uns und gründen auch Sie eine Stiftung – das ist einfacher, als Sie denken. Oder Sie engagieren sich in einer bereits bestehenden Stiftung.
